

The Crow
By Lillian Reuben (age 7)

When the sun rises everyday
The crow starts to find its way
Through the woods it croaks and creaks
It catches worms at the end of its beak
When the sun is set, it goes back to its nest
And in the morning, it starts again